

The law relating to family matters encompasses many aspects of our everyday lives relating to interpersonal relationships and the consequences of the breakdown of those relationships. Berry & Berry has experienced specialist matrimonial and family lawyers who can provide realistic, reassuring and sound advice on all family matters including:

- Breakdown of marriage
- Separation
- Divorce
- Judicial Separation
- Nullity
- Civil Partnerships
- Pre-Marital Agreements
- Mediation
- Property disputes between spouses
- Claims for maintenance, lump sums and property
- Enforcing financial provision after the end of a marriage
- Financial provision on the death of a partner or spouse
- The Children Act
- Adoption
- Matters involving local authorities
- Financial orders for children
- Injunctions against domestic violence
- Financial support for children
- Domicile

We understand that matters involving family law are often very stressful to clients. There may be problems concerning the terms of any separation or settlement, the distribution of matrimonial assets, with whom the children will live and visiting arrangements.

Whatever the difficulties, we will give your clear and effective advice. We can recommend mediation services and, where appropriate will try and resolve problems and disputes without resorting to court proceedings.

Whether or not you qualify for legal aid we will provide clear advice about costs at all stages throughout the matter.

Our Family Law team include members of the Children Panel, Accredited Resolution Family Law Specialists and an Advanced Member of the Law Society's Family Law Panel.

